

PRIMARY SCIENCE TEACHING TRUST

INTERNATIONAL PRIMARY SCIENCE EDUCATION CONFERENCE, EDINBURGH 2019

Post-conference special issues of Primary Science and the Journal of Emergent Science

All presenters of sessions at PSEC are encouraged to submit a paper or an article to a special issue of one of these ASE journals.

Post conference submission of articles to the special conference issue of Primary Science

The closing date for submission of articles is 1st September 2019.

Papers should be sent to Kate Redhead: kate.redhead@pstt.org.uk

The selection of articles to be published will be based on the following criteria:

1. Is there a clear focus and structure to the article?
2. Is the article relevant and interesting to primary teachers, addressing a topical issue?
3. Does the article offer practical suggestions for primary teachers underpinned by some clear evidence and/or theory?

Post conference submission of papers to the special conference issue of the Journal of Emergent Science

The closing date for submission of papers is 1st September 2019.

Papers should be sent to Sarah Earle: s.earle@bathspa.ac.uk

The selection of papers to be published will be based on the following criteria:

1. Is there a clear focus and structure to the study?
2. Does the research draw on an appropriate range of literature?
3. Does the paper clearly describe the research methods, design and study context?
4. Is the data (evidence) well organised and presented in a coherent manner that is aligned with the research questions?
5. Are the arguments or interpretations of data plausible and is there an appropriate level of criticality?
6. Do the conclusions contribute valuable insights to teaching and learning in science education?
7. Have the findings been appropriately interpreted to offer useful implications into teaching/learning/researching science education?
